

Finally, High School Course Based Assessments

Provide your high school teachers the progress measurement tools they need to effectively prepare students for end of course exams. Discovery Education's Course Based Assessments are geared to standards established by the American Diploma Project and offer high school benchmarks that are course based, not grade based, to better complement instruction.

Assessment Tied to Instruction

Discovery Education Course Based Assessments are fully integrated into the comprehensive Discovery Education Assessment kindergarten through high school solution. They are augmented by ongoing probes powered by thousands of items in Discovery Education Assessment: Progress Zone, the first web-based formative assessment service that recommends standards-aligned video clips for targeted remediation.

- > Subjects include Algebra I and II, English I and II, and Biology
- > Two equivalent benchmarks per subject
- > Reports categorized by four performance levels
- > Monitor student progress toward end of course exam via Progress Zone
