

Principal Effectiveness Is Key to Your Students' Achievement

The Vanderbilt Assessment of Leadership in Education (VAL-ED), distributed by Discovery Education, measures principals' effectiveness using 360° feedback from teachers, supervisors, and the principals themselves. VAL-ED focuses on learning-centered leadership behaviors that influence teachers, staff, and most importantly, student achievement. Field tested in a nationally representative sample, VAL-ED is a reliable and valid measure for evaluating learning-centered leadership.

Developed by:

VANDERBILT ASSESSMENT of LEADERSHIP in EDUCATION™

Dr. Andrew Porter
Dean, Graduate School of Education
University of Pennsylvania

Dr. Joseph Murphy
Professor of Education,
Associate Dean For
Special Projects
Vanderbilt University

Dr. Stephen Elliott
Dunn Family Professor and Director of the Learning
Sciences Institute
Vanderbilt University

Dr. Ellen B. Goldring
Professor of Educational
Policy and Leadership
Vanderbilt University

Download sample VAL-ED reports and surveys at DiscoveryEducation.com/VALED or call 866-814-6685

Measure the Effectiveness of Your Schools' Leaders

VAL-ED (Vanderbilt Assessment of Leadership in Education), bought to you by Discovery Education with funding by the Wallace Foundation, is the most reliable and valid measure for evaluating learning-focused leadership.

- > Aligned to the widely used Interstate School Leaders Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) standards
- > Assesses principals in six key processes of leadership
 - High standards of learning
 - Rigorous curriculum
 - Quality instruction
 - Culture of learning and Professional behavior
 - Connections to external communities
 - Performance accountability
- > Assesses six key processes of leadership
 - Planning
 - Implementing
 - Supporting
 - Advocating
 - Communicating
 - Performance accountability
- > Measures leadership skills

VAL-ED is a 360° assessment intended to be taken by the principal, teachers, and the principal's supervisor. Make sure you provide the best feedback to principals encompassing the entire professional school environment.

For more information about VAL-ED
call (866) 814-6685
visit us on the web at DiscoveryEducation.com/VALED

DETA.FL.XXXXXX